CHURCH PETITION.

Council Criticised for Ignoring Church People.

An Open Letter On City Affairs And The Eleven O'clock Closing Law.

I suppose it will not be accounted treason, at least by the masses of the citizens of Hopkinsville, to inquire what action the city council, the guardians of the people's interest, has taken upon the petition presented by Mr. James West some time ago from the congregations of the various churches in the city. It has been said that after the petition was read, a member of the council asked Mr. West if the petition was concurred in by all of the city churches, and without further notice the matter was passed over, after the council had been assured by the gentleman presenting the petition, that the pastor of the only church not joining in it assured him of his full sympathy with the 11 o'clock closing ordinance. Certainly a great many good people are interested in this petition, and are in earnest about pressing the matter, and it seems incredible that the "guardians of the people" would disregard their obligations to those whom they are supposed to represent, unless indeed they are under obligations to another class preceding these they were supposed to assume at the time the people elected them to office.

Most people have been taught to believe that the organization of society into cities, counties, &c., is to promote the well being of people—to promote right and punish wrong; and it would hardly seem necessary to require an oath upon entering office to secure this sole object; and yet, on account of the weakness of human nature, I suppose—to give a man all the inspiration that comes from a solemn oath, and help him by solemn warning to crush any temptation from within or without that can draw him away from this single and plain road, our wise ancestors added this to the obligation practically acknowledged when one agrees to accept a place of trust as the agent of the people.

To add an additional safeguard both to the people and officials would it not be wise to publish the proceedings in full of every council meeting in some or all of our city papers? It might help to stiffen the backbone of some weak brother when he felt a giving away under the strain that might be beating against his uprightness and loyalty; and then besides it would keep the people informed fully as to the work done and planned for future by its servants. I have no doubt the papers would all gladly welcome these offerings from the news field, and then the city could be spared the expense, if this feature should thus be thought worthy of consideration.

Is is a serious question of doubt with many of us in these days whether servants and masters have not changed positions—whether officials are still the servants of the people, or whether the people are the servants.

We might have these doubts set at rest—at least for Hopkinsville—should our honorable council listen to the voice of the people and acknowledge themselves still the servants and not the master. If they are not the servants of the people, then we would like to ask those servants they are? They can answer in the next meeting; and we trust they will prove loyal to the people.

SENSATIONAL

Are Some of the Features Promised in Suits.

Escape in Bowling Green College Results in Litigation and Big Damages Asked.

A dispatch from Harrodsburg, Ky., to the New York Herald says: "A midnight escape from exclusive Potter College a year or so ago of four girls of leading Kentucky families for a rabbit supper, with as many young men, has a strange sequel. The four girls were expelled. The four young men who provided a ladder for their escape were indicted, but pardoned in advance of trial to prevent exposure of the girls."

"Now Potter College, through its President, B. F. Cabell, sues Messrs. Short and Haynes, of this city, on account of the tuition of their daughters. Misses Ruth Haynes and Florence Cottrell. To this account Messrs. Short and Haynes have filed an answer and counter claim asking damages against the Potter College in the sum of $50,000 for the failure of the college authorities to protect the moral character of the girls."

In the answer of Mr. Haynes he says:

"Plaintiff violated his contract and failed to exercise parental care over her, failed to instruct her morally, and failed to protect her good name and character, but permitted her to commit indiscretions and thereby injure the good name and reputation. Plaintiff having full knowledge that a number of the girl pupils, including defendant's daughter, intended stealthily to go out of the plaintiff's building on a certain night to be in company of some young men, and having been warned that such was the intention, plaintiff failed to prevent the same or to advise his daughter not to do so, but by its officers it laid in wait for his daughter and said other pupils and permitted them to leave the building, and after the same had been so permitted, plaintiff rushed out upon them and used fire arms, shooting some, terrorizing said girls and his daughter."

Mr. Fort was contemplating shipping the mules to Southern markets, and the animals were temporarily quartered in a tobacco shed, when the building caught fire.

Last Friday was the last day for filing suits for the spring term of Christian Circuit Court, which convenes here next Monday for a six weeks' session. The Reuben Haynes murder case is set for the third day of the term and the case of the Commonwealth against Jake Williams, charged with a similar offense, is set for Thursday, Feb. 27. There are twelve prisoners in jail awaiting trial.

Pentecost Meeting Last Friday Came to an End.

Fourteen Additions to the Churches Last Sunday Morning and Evening.

The Tabernacle was filled last Friday night. It was a disappointed crowd as it expected to hear a sermon from Doctor Pentecost. The Doctor invited the pastors of the different churches to consume five minutes each and let the people know what effect they thought the meetings had had on the community. They all spoke, and after they had gotten through a collection was taken up for the purpose of raising the debt of $2,000 which has hung over the tabernacle for several years. About $160 was raised. So much time was taken up that Doctor Pentecost concluded not to deliver a sermon.

There were no services at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening, owing to the illness of the minister.

Two in the morning and one in the evening were received into membership at the Christian church.

The Baptist church received eight members in the morning, seven by baptism and one by letter. Two were received at the Methodist church.

Doctor Pentecost commenced a four weeks meeting at Warren Memorial Presbyterian church at Louisville last Sunday morning.

Prof. Excell did not go to Louisville to lead in the singing at Louisville, as was at first contemplated, but returned to Chicago via St. Louis.

Everybody thinks that great and lasting good was accomplished by the Pentecost meetings, though the visible results were not what were hoped for.

TRUSTEES WON.

The case of J. W. Yancey and others against the Board of Trustees of the town of Fairview, which has been in the Court of Appeals for the last two years, was decided last Wednesday in favor of the Board of Trustees.

This suit grew out of the board attempting to enlarge the limits of the town which was only 165 feet wide on each side of the street and a half mile in length. The decision in favor of the trustees means better streets and side walks and no whisky.—Fairview Review.

Mrs. Ada Layne is now in New York City, where she will buy her spring stock of millinery goods. She will be absent about three weeks.

S. K. C. NOTES.

WRITTEN BY "A QUEST."

Popular South Christian Couple Married Last Week.

EDITOR KENTUCKIAN:

A quiet home wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Fleming, the contracting parties being Miss Anna Fleming and Mr. J. C. Eades. On account of the home not being spacious enough, only a limited number of the relatives and friends of the young couple were present. At 10 o'clock the bride entered the parlor on the arm of the groom and the impressive ceremony was solemnized by the bride's brother, Rev. J. D. Fleming, of Memphis, Tenn.

Mrs. Eades needs no comment; as for years she has been loved in the community for her lovely traits of character.

Mr. Eades is a rising young farmer.

The bride was attired in a becoming dress of blue broadcloth, and in velvet and applique. Immediately after the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Eades left for the groom's home, where the wedding party were served a delightful supper.

A QUEST.

Biliousness Cured.

H. Seever, a carpenter and builder of Kenton, Tenn., when suffering intensely from an attack of bilious colic, sent to a nearby drug store for something to relieve him. The druggist sent him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, three doses of which effected a permanent cure. This is the only remedy that can be depended upon in the most severe cases of colic and cholera morosa. Most druggists know this and recommend it when such a medicine is called for. For sale by all druggists.

The Sick.

Mr. Frank Bassett has been confined to his room by sickness for several days.

Rev. F. L. Goff was taken suddenly ill Saturday night, but is getting over it.

Mr. H. H. Abernethy's condition was unimproved yesterday. His friends are apprehensive of his recovery.

Mr. Wheeler Out Rid of His Rheumatism

"During the winter of 1898 I was so lame in my joints, in fact all over my body, that I could hardly hobble around, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. From the first application I began to get well, and was cured and have worked steadily all the year. Mr. Wheeler, Northwood, N. Y. For sale by all druggists."

Clarksville's Big Hotel.

The Arlington Hotel at Clarksville has become the exclusive property of Mr. H. C. Merritt, of that place. It is probable that Mr. Hugh Phelps will continue as manager. Mr. Phelps is a native of Hopkinsville.

She Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a number of years and have no hesitancy in saying that it is the best remedy for coughs, colds and croup I have ever used in my family. I have not words to express my confidence in this remedy. Mrs. J. A. Moore, North St. Mich. For sale by all druggists."

A Big Strike.

The manufacturers have made a strike for lower prices and P. C. Hollis at Pembroke has followed them up and cut prices accordingly from 25 to 50 per cent on all undergarments, goods and furniture in proportion.

A valentine party given by the S. K. C. girls on Saturday night was indeed a grand success. The reception rooms bedecked with comic valentines and designs in hearts made gay and cheerful the appearance. The girls themselves dressed in dainty gowns adorned with strings of golden beads, with smiling faces bid all welcome.

The guests consisted of girls from Bethel college and the S. K. C. boys. The rooms were filled to overflowing with delighted visitors, and joyous laughter. "The more the merrier" seemed to be the motto, and indeed it seemed so.

After chatting for some time the guests were invited to take refreshments, and here is where language fails to describe the beautiful and artistic decorations, and unexcelled ice cream and cake. Tongue cannot tell how that ice cream and cake tasted, it can only taste.

The table overspread by a snowy white cloth and decorated in green showed the work of artistic hands. Here and there were set huge bunches of crimson carnations which emitted sweet perfume. The refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were served in a truly attractive way, the cream being served on thin china plate and surrounded by a candied heart. On one side of this was delicious cake, on the other a carnation of deepest red.

At a late hour the many guests bid farewell and turned their faces homeward, complaining of the shortness of the time, and praising the delightful entertainers.

Many of our boys attended a delightful party given by the Misses Brasher on Friday night.

The deep snow kept many of the invited away, yet the majority were in attendance to enjoy the pleasant evening.

Dainty refreshments were served which of course were welcomed by all present. We dare say it is hard to find more successful entertainers than our hostesses.

Mr. Claud Sisk, of White Plains, Ky., is the latest arrival.

Valentines were read in the college chapel Friday night. Many were present although some feared to attend. All present had a good time laughing at the other fellow's expense, and a busy time consoling himself.

The meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was postponed on account of the Pentecost meeting.

The literary society gave way to the valentine party Saturday night.

"Who sent it to me?" is the popular question of the ridiculed valentine recipients.

For once the boys have got enough coaxing. No one seems to care to ride over the present snow.

The Misses Prewitt enjoyed a visit from their father this week.

The start for Paducah will be made on Friday next.

Donald Carney was awarded the medal in competitive drill Friday evening. On account Paducah trip the next drill will be held Thursday at 2:30. All are invited to attend.

Mr. E. O. Excell, who led the singing for the Pentecost meetings, favored us by his presence Thursday morning. He led several songs and sang for us several tunes. Mr. Cancey, of Nashville, who accompanied him, also sang a beautiful solo. We cannot add anything to the excellency of the gentleman's singing.

PROLIFIC FAMILY.

Fifty-Seven Sets of Twins, or 114 Children.

Mrs. Susannah Pennock, twenty years old, a patient in the New York City Hospital, has just given birth to her third set of twins. Mrs. Pennock's mother gave birth to six sets of twins and bore twenty-four children altogether. One of Mrs. Pennock's sisters has borne five pairs of twins, and another sister four pairs. Thirteen more of her mother's children, Mrs. Pennock says, had three sets of twins each, or a total of thirty nine, making fifty-seven sets of twins, or 114 children in all. Mrs. Pennock was born in Sweden.

Barnum's Monkeys

"All well—all happy—lots of fun." That is the regular report from the monkey cage of Barnum's Circus ever since the keepers began dosing the monkeys with Scott's Emulsion. Consumption was carrying off two thirds of them every year and the circus had to buy new ones.

One day a keeper accidentally broke a bottle of Scott's Emulsion near the monkey cage and the monkeys eagerly lapped it up from the floor. This suggested the idea that it might do them good. Since then the monkeys have received regular doses and the keepers report very few deaths from consumption. Of course it's cheaper to buy Scott's Emulsion than new monkeys—and that suits the circus men.

Consumption in monkeys and in man is the same disease. If you have it or are threatened with it can you take the hint?

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle. Send for free sample.

BETHEL COLLEGE NOTES.

Miss Drake chaperoned a number of our girls to the Art Exhibit at Hotel Latham, Wednesday afternoon.

There was a full attendance at prayer meeting Wednesday evening.

Prof. Harrison excused the girls from Study Hall Thursday evening, that they might attend the last of the services at the Tabernacle. Original work was done in most of the classes next day.

The Chorus Club met as usual in the Reading Room on Monday afternoon. This class is meeting twice a week now in order that they may present Zaida to the public early in March. We hope in giving this play to raise sufficient means to remodel our chapel.

Misses Mary and Lucy White returned yesterday from a visit to their home in Cadiz.

Miss Jessie Garrett, of Pembroke, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents.

Miss Katherine Jones was with her cousin, Miss Mary Jones, Saturday.

On Friday morning Prof. Harrison received an invitation from South Kentucky for his girls to meet St. Valentine in the parlors of S. K. C. on Saturday evening. When Saturday dawned it looked as if the weather had decided against us; but this seemed trivial when we thought of the pleasure in store for us. At last the happy suggestion that we go in wagonettes brightened all faces.

Upon the arrival of the hour for our departure all was excitement and in a few minutes we received a hearty greeting at the doors of our sister college.

We found that St. Valentine was indeed remembered within these walls, and every where there were hearts in abundance—here and there two that beat as one.

After spending two hours in the parlors we were then ushered into the dining reception hall. Even here the idea of hearts prevailed. In the table decorations the good saint had displayed great art. The delicate refreshments were served from sweet hearts, and for each guest there was provided a beautiful carnation.

The evening on the whole was novel and romantic, and we feel indebted to S. K. C. and St. Valentine for the most enjoyable evening.

MINUTES OF THE KALOEZIC SOCIETY.

In the absence of the President, the Kaloezic Society was called to order Friday afternoon by Miss Gaines, Vice President. Each member had been requested to bring an original valentine. These were placed in a basket and each one, in responding to her name, drew a valentine. After the reading the minutes of the last meeting the various committees made their reports. It was found that all had faithfully discharged their duties. The corresponding secretary was authorized to order the magazine which the society had decided upon.

The presiding officer, finding that there was no new business to be discussed, called for programme which was as follows: History of St. Valentine. Polly Graves Choppin's Deax Polonoise. Mary Wright Origin of St. Valentine's Day. Mable Hillie Liszt's Rhapsodie Hongroise. Miss Eades

A Valentine Story. Patty Bartley The Critic then reported, and the Society was immediately adjourned to meet next Friday evening.

GHOST STORY.

Phantom Dog Seen by Citizens Near Adams Station.

The following ghost story is reported from Adams, Tenn., a few miles South of Guthrie:

As Dave Woodruff, Emily Edwards, Will Murphy and Undertaker Ayers were going through Pride's woods, about a mile from town Tuesday night, they report that they saw a large phantom dog cross the road and wallow a time or two and then disappear. Several of the oldest and most truthful citizens of Adams have seen the apparition several times. About ten years ago a child died in a house in that wood and was buried near where the road now is and was dug up by the dogs.

HOPKINSVILLE STAFF

Royally Entertained at Henderson Banquet Saturday Night.

The third annual banquet of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to Henderson district staff was given in that city Saturday night and proved a most enjoyable and superb affair. Messrs. W. J. Saunders, Assistant Superintendent; E. A. Roper, R. E. Willingham, W. W. Rossington, J. Wolfe, D. Girod and R. Wolfe, representing the Hopkinsville staff, were present.

For Stomach Troubles.

"I have taken a great many different medicines for stomach trouble and constipation," says Mrs. S. Geiger of Dunkerton, Iowa. "But never had as good results from any as from Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets." For sale by all druggists.

Hoyt's "A Day And A Night."

With the utmost attention to detail, this great success of a successful author is scheduled to be with us tomorrow evening. The cast this season is composed of actors and actresses of known ability—absolutely not a stick among 'em. This is a refreshing innovation when we consider that most farce comedy companies travelling now-a-days, as well as dramatic organizations, and opera companies carry some dead wood who make up in number what they lack in talent.

Hoyt's "A Day And A Night" company has for its members the pick of a crowded profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brainy and attractive. The tout en semble results in a perfect performance. No detail has been forgotten from the carpet to the pen wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day And A Night" abounds with the very funny entanglements of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some singers for a village choir. There are novel specialties and all the songs and music are up to date.

There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play which will be at Holland's Opera House Wednesday night, February 19th.

RAPID RISE

Confidently Expected of Allan D. Wallis, in the Insurance Field.

Mr. Allan D. Wallis, who left this city a few weeks ago for Baltimore, is now established in his new position as instructor of agents for Maryland, for the New York Life Insurance Co. His headquarters will be at Baltimore, with his brother, Mr. Frederick A. Wallis, who is now one of the most prominent insurance men in the East. He starts in with a large salary and prospects for rapid advancement. It is not improbable that he may be transferred to the position of agency director at some other point without much delay, as men of his high character and superior qualifications are always in demand in the insurance business. Though comparatively new to this business, he has been since boyhood a successful business man and has for several years ranked with the most promising young business men in his native city. He possesses remarkable energy, intelligence of an unusually high order, and above all his rare "mixing qualities" quickly turn strangers into friends, and create a most favorable and lasting impression upon all with whom he is brought in contact. He has already made his mark during the few weeks that he has been engaged in his new work.

His older brother, Fred, is one of the most successful young men of his age Hopkinsville has ever turned out and not a year passes that he does not reflect added honors upon his native city. Allan will follow closely in his footsteps—for the same stuff is in them both—and the people of Hopkinsville will note with pride the rapid rise they are sure he will make in his new profession.

LABOR LEADER

Makes A Rich STRIKE—Edwin Boyce Becomes a Millionaire

By The Discovery Of Gold.

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 14.—Edwin Boyce, head of the Western Federation of Miners and leader in the recent strikes in Northern Idaho has become a wealthy man through a rich find recently made in a mine in which he and his wife are interested. Some of the wealthiest mining men in the West are said to have offered a million and a half for the property, but the owners refused to part with it. Members of the miner's union are said to be greatly interested in knowing whether Boyce will remain at the head of the order or retire with his new-found wealth.

When you lack energy, do not relish your food, feel dull and stupid, after eating, all you need is a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets. They will make you feel like a new man and give you an appetite like a bear. For sale by all druggists.

"Finnigan's Ball."

Theatregoers have a treat in store for them as Manager Holland has succeeded in securing Messrs Morgan and Murphy in that popular comedy "Finnigan's Ball," which has been one of the most wholesome successes of the present season, a comedy with more original ideas, new songs, pretty faces, clever comedians and genuine comedy than all other farces offered. The cast embraces the names of comedy players that are familiar to all patrons of the local theatres. Special scenery, electrical and mechanical effects are carried intact for each act, which ensures a perfect performance. "Finnigan's Ball" should be liberally patronized as it comes to us with the very highest endorsements as being absolutely first-class in every particular. At the Opera House, Friday night, February 21.

Fatal Shooting at Richmond.

Richmond, Ky., Feb. 14.—In a fight on the street Shelton Chambers was fatally shot and Leslie Estill was seriously wounded. The two men had a difficulty previously, but were separated. Two years ago chambers stabbed a negro to death in the same locality where he was shot.

Schley: Santiago

BY GEORGE EDWARD GRAHAM.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, when Governor of New York, said: "Mr. Graham's story is the best account I have heard of the naval fighting during the war. It is indeed just as much changed to go about taking photographs as it is to do the work."

THE NEW YORK HERALD says: "Mr. Graham, in the telling of facts, leaves the reader free to make the deductions that several careful editors and a Court of Inquiry to re-establish their reputation, if they can be re-established."

No subject has ever been before the public that has interested everybody as the manner in which Admiral Schley has been treated, and the American people demand the full recognition of the hero of Santiago. This book tells everything just as it occurred and as it was witnessed. Liberal commissions, and several copies of the book, sent seven cents stamps for canvassing order. AT 25 CENTS. MONEY.

DE WINDT'S JOURNEY.

French Traveler and Companion Will Try to Reach New York by Way of the Arctic.

Harry De Windt and his companions, who will attempt to reach New York by traveling overland, started long since on their way to Behring Strait. The trip will be across the continent to Siberia, where the Russian government will actively assist the explorer in his undertaking. Viacomte de Glouchamp and George Harding, accompany M. De Windt. This will be the third attempt M. De Windt has made to reach America entirely by land. On the last occasion, starting from New York, he managed to reach the Asiatic coast of the straits, but owing to his capture and subsequent ill treatment by Koari, the Tchukchei chief, he narrowly escaped with his life and had to return.

He again attempted the journey in the reverse direction last year, but owing to the political situation in China and on the Amur Coast, Russia refused to allow De Windt to cross Siberia, and again M. De Windt had to relinquish the trip.

Now, however, he is receiving assistance from both the Russian and American authorities, including Commodore Melville, of Washington.

WEST VIRGINIA DIANA.

Lily Jackson, Daughter of Oldest Judge on Federal Bench, is an Accomplished Hunter.

Miss Lily Irene Jackson, of Parkersburg, W. Va., daughter of Judge John Jay Jackson, the oldest judge in the federal bench in point of service, is the Diana of West Virginia. Judge Jackson was one of President Lincoln's appointees, nearly 40 years ago. At 77 years of age he is still one of the ablest judges on the bench and he is robust and active. His daughter is an accomplished horsewoman, a crack shot with rifle or shotgun, an enthusiastic hunter, a lover of fine horses and dogs and she can hunt all day without the slightest fatigue. On a recent occasion she went on a hunting trip and returned with 20 quail, all of which fell victims to her splendid aim. She never misses a shot on the hunt and frequently brought down more than one bird at a time. A game supper to a few of her friends followed her last hunting trip, for which she herself cooked the birds she had killed. She has hand-painted souvenir cards of her own handiwork, representing

Risking Life

To make a living! And we stand and stare at the man in the clouds, wondering that any man can be so foolish.

But what of the business man, who has barely time to snatch a hasty meal, and gulps down a lunch of pie and milk in a few minutes? He too, is risking his life to make a living. Life is enmeshed by food properly digested and assimilated. The result of hasty eating and irregular meals is in "weak" stomach, and a "weak" stomach means a weak man. When the stomach is "weak" the food eaten is not properly digested and cannot be perfectly assimilated, so that there is a daily loss of nutrition, which in time will result in physical collapse.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It embodies the assimilation of all the nutritive values of the food eaten, and so builds up the body into sound health and strength.

Dr. Neil Nelson, the celebrated Irish Conductor and Violinist of the Royal Irish Academy, writes: "I was afflicted with a weak stomach and the constant vomiting gave me a bad taste of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it till I had given up. Then I bought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried it, and, thank God, with good results."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advice, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THIS AND THAT.

San Pedro, Cal., has a harbor, 20 miles long, with a capacity for 15,000 tons a day. Last October it shipped 200 cases.

The St. Lawrence river is only 775 miles long, but if the lake system be also taken into account its total length will exceed 2,000 miles.

Tariff was the name of the Moorish chieftain. About Tarifa, who had a fortress near the straits of Gibraltar, and levied toll on ships and merchandise passing through.

Corpses once meant a body, whether living or dead. Many old writers are extant in which the sheriff or his deputy is commanded to bring the corpse of such a man into court.

The arshin, a common measure of length on Turkish roads, is 30 inches. A thousand arshins is considered the unit of distance, equivalent to something less than 1,000 yards.

Garble originally meant to cull over, as beans or peas would be examined to free them from pebbles. Wycliffe's translation of the Bible says that "Gideon garbled his host."

The western Africans have a musical instrument called the zarbe. It is a board in which are fastened from 20 to 30 bits of iron wire of different lengths and sizes; the wires are plucked with the fingers, and the tone produced is not unpleasant.

Petroleum and its products are applied in surgery and medicine; in the making of iron and the production of light; in paint manufacture and the preparation of oilcloths; in the manipulation of rubber and in washing wool. Where it is cheap, it replaces coal; in almost all modern plants some one of the petroleum derivatives, is used for the enrichment of gas. For general lubrication, the paraffin oils are the most serviceable.

Twenty-three Years.

In view of the fact that the KENTUCKIAN has wound up its 23rd year of success, it is not out of place to say a word to its friends. The KENTUCKIAN has long since become a fixture of Hopkinsville.

All Newspaper Records in the City Have Been Broken by it.

No other paper ever published in Hopkinsville can point to a record of more than 20 years, with each year's business better than the one before. How many papers in that time have tried to run in Hopkinsville and fallen by the wayside? How many have failed to reach the goal?

An ocean cable 10,000 miles long would not serve the purpose for which it was designed if it fell short within twenty feet of the receiving-instrument.

It isn't the first end that counts. It's the last end. The start is nothing. Every contestant starts in a race, but how many finish? Almost any horse can begin in a race. Wish a few trials, ever an old plug may get away from the wire all right, but it's the coming under the wire for the last time that counts, it's being in the race to the finish that is alone valuable.

A great many things in this world are made to begin well enough, but they fall short.

The KENTUCKIAN as an advertising medium has never fallen short. As a news medium, occupying a field of its own choosing, it has for 20 years stood squarely upon its merits and succeeded

WHERE OTHERS FAILED.

Advertisers should bear this in mind. Money spent for Newspaper Advertising is an investment. It is not how much the advertising costs, but how large will be the returns. The mission of Newspaper Advertising is to Sell Goods. When the careful merchant has decided the important question as to the right medium, then, by attractive display advertising in that medium, he will inevitably increase sales. This result follows as surely as day follows night. The is the medium that pays, because it reaches the people. It has among its patrons advertisers who have been with it without a break for 12 to 15 years. It numbers the very best class of advertisers in their respective lines of business.

If you are not already a customer of ours, we want to make you one, and your advertising ONE OF OUR SPECIALTIES.

Newspaper advertising has become an indispensable adjunct to business. You need the advertising, we have the space to sell. Come less do business with each other.

And to the reading public, remember we cover the entire news field twice a week for only $2 a year. At least one half of the news we give is in advance of other publications, because our facilities for gathering out-of-town news are equalled by none. If your time is out renew promptly. If you have never taken the KENTUCKIAN, try it for 1902.

Chas. M. Meacham.

ENGLISH SWELLS IN RAGS.

Sports Wear Good; Wear Clothes Made to Appear Old.

It is such bad form to be anything but shabby when rigged out in shooting kit—that is, if you are a "smart" person—that only the most ignorant of newly-rich people are so. If you see a man in Norfolk jacket and gaiters that look anything less than three years old, you can put him down as a poor imitation of a sportsman, says London Answers.

When the tailor shows his customer the stuff—if he is the right man—it already looks limp and rough as possible, with hairs and ends sticking out here and there, for it has been carefully manufactured for that end, and fetches a big price. But that isn't enough. When you've got the suit home, your man—who must be about your own size, or he is no good—must wear them for at least a week, and, after taking them off, hang them about—in a hayloft for choice. It looks dreadfully bad to wear new shooting things, as though you "weren't used to it," and had just bought your first outfit for sport. Some gilded youths hand their new "Norfolk" over to their grooms and stable boys to "take the edge off" a bit. A true "swell" will only wear a Norfolk jacket that, though beautifully cut, and fitting well, is thoroughly shabby, and preferably frayed on the shoulders and at the sleeves.

Your top-hat, for hunting, must be of perfect design and quality; but it must have at least one or two "crackles" in it, as though you had fallen on it. Some of the Midland hat-makers—who often cut the London hat-makers out for hunting "toppers"—are even asked to break the hats slightly, and block them out again. A good hunting topper costs £2 2 shillings; but only old men, or "outsiders," wear hats that look as though "got up" for Piccadilly. Again, a "bowler" in the country should have an ugly scar on the brim, as though a riding-cord button had been there, and been torn away. Any good valet will make the right mark on a hat of this kind.

Gaiters and leggins are worse than useless as the maker turns them out; they must be well stained and darkened, and almost worn thin on the inner sides. At the same time, they have to be of the current fashionable cut, last year's seldom being up to date. And, as only a few men ride so much as to "color" their gaiters well and early every season, a trained servant has to stain the gaiters well, and rub them with a leathery iron in the places where the friction against the saddle is most apt to wear them.

Again, many "swell" riders require their grooms and stable boys to give the gaiters a thorough good wearing before the winter season begins. Top-boots for the "shires," too, must be well worn on the inner sides of the tops, though of the current year's make, and this is generally managed by a vigorous pounding with a leathery hammer, followed by a darkening with harness composition.

As for ties, white stocks, which are the favorite cravats, ought to be well flattened out, and ironed thin, if the wearer is a careful dresser, and to obtain this they must be sent to a rather second-rate laundry several times before they are worn at all. Then a "French dresser" will give them the right degree of whiteness, and they will have the appearance of having been "country washed" after being, ostensibly, worn many times at the covert and in the hunting field.

Waistcoats should be spotless and neat, as they are kept covered up; but the third buttonhole and its button should be pulled about and badly frayed, as it is from this buttonhole that the cartridge extractor hangs. Ship shooting is mostly carried on in wild districts, and in rainy weather, over wet ground, the best of cartridge will stick, and the extractor for pulling them out is hung hardly from the third waistcoat button by a piece of flexible wire. This spot thus gets badly frayed, and if the waistcoat's owner likes to be considered a snipe-shot—a great accomplishment—his tailor or his man must treat this button and buttonhole in such a way as to make it look worn and disreputable as possible.

Increase in Money Orders.

The transactions of the money order business during five years have increased from $188,071,056.27 to the enormous sum of $294,618,680.99, or 56 per cent. So, too, in every other branch and division of the service there have been constant and unusual advances.

We refer to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it with such good results in our family so long that it has become a household necessity. By its prompt use we haven't any doubt but that it has time and again prevented croup. The testimony is given upon our own experience, and we suggest that our readers, especially those who have small children, always keep it in their houses as a safeguard against croup.—Camden (S. C.)
